NF LADS ARREST BLACK MUGGERS

TWO National Front members gave chase when they saw three Black muggers attack a White woman at Brick Lane market in East London.

Terry McDonagh and Derek Park, two members of Central London Branch of the NF, were out shopping when they witnessed the mugging. They saw the three Blacks run off after knocking the woman to the ground and they immediately sprang into action.

They chased after the muggers and eventually managed to catch them up. After Terry and Derek had cornered them, the three Blacks decided to make a fight of it. They turned on the two NF members but very soon came unstuck! After a short brawl, Terry and Derek kept hold of the three Blacks until the police turned up.

Terry and Derek, £50 reward each.

Although they didn't know it at the time, the two White racists had stopped the three Black muggers from getting away with £2,000 because the woman had been carrying the day's takings from the shop she worked at when the Blacks pounced.

Not surprisingly, the owners of the shop were very grateful for the help of these two NF members. They gave each of them a £50 reward.

ASIAN BABY BOOM IN BLACKBURN

AUTHORITIES IN Blackburn are extremely concerned over the birth-rate explosion of Asian families in the town.

A report by Blackburn Council's planning office shows that in 1981 the average Asian family was 5.02 compared to the borough's average of 2.75. In January of last year figures showed that 28.5% of five year-olds in the town's schools were of non-European ethnic origin.

PROBLEMS

The high fertility rate among Blackburn's Asian women has pushed the town's birthrate to 25% above the national average.

The report, which has stunned the people of Blackburn, predicts problems for the town in coping with an estimated extra 7,000 British-born Asians by 1996, problems in education, problems in health care, problems in housing and problems in employment.

SAVE OUR JOBS!

A Plea From Britain's Shipbuilders

THE YARD of Scott Lithgow is all that remains of the once mighty shipbuilding industry of the Clyde. Before the First World War, Clydeside built over 40% of the world tonnage of ships, yet now the Tory Government appears to be prepared to stand by and allow this major employer on the Clyde, together with its 4,000 workforce, to sink without trace.

The cause of the national focus on Scott Lithgow was the announcement by Britoil, a company 49% Government owned, that it was cancelling their order for an £88 million oil rig because work is two years behind time-table at the yard. The cancellation would mean the end of shipbuilding on the Clyde, although the situation could be saved by the Government under-writing agreed penalties in the original contract to the tune of £17,000 a day.

Mrs Thatcher says the Government cannot continue to throw good money after bad and that the record of the yard is 'abysmal', implying that the Tories are prepared to write-off Scott Lithgow.

GREAT STRIDES

The record of Scott Lithgow however is far from 'abysmal' considering that it was only in 1981 that the yard, merged from two famous Clyde firms with a history of 200 years of shipbuilding, was forced to change its expertise and compete in the world of offshore technology contracts. In three years the shipyard has made great strides in acquiring managerial, technical and labour skills necessary in building of prototype vessels and rigs. Let the efforts of the Scott Lithgow workforce speak for themselves.

* PROTOTYPE. The building of the BP North Sea support vessel, the Iolair, hailed as a miracle of modern technology and much praised by British Petroleum.

* PROTOTYPE. The near completion of a massive semi-submersible rig for British Petroleum.

TIME AND PATIENCE

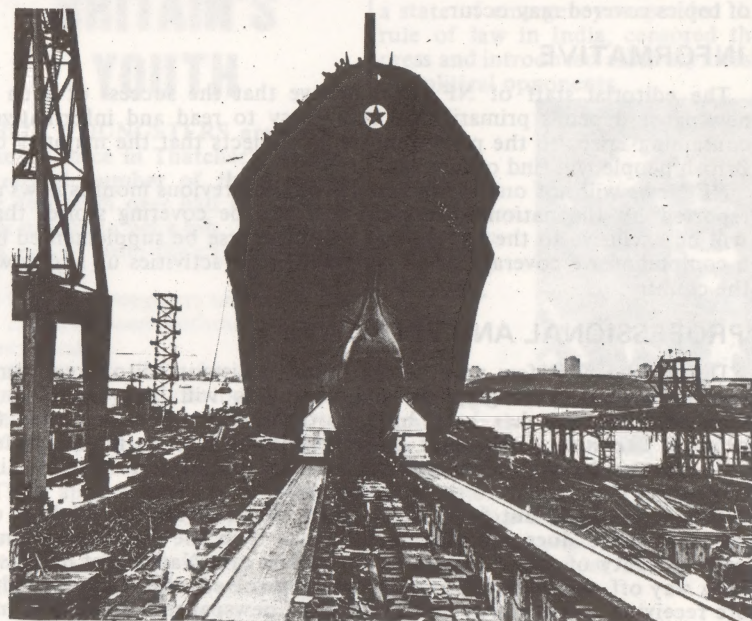

The 4,000 ft Britoil rig for drilling off the Shetlands is the biggest rig ever built and as such has posed problems for the Clyde yard. Weighing 24,000 tons with legs that are dynamically positioned by motor power the rig required an entirely new kind of welding to comply with strict safety standards. New technology that needed time and patience to learn and understand. Modifications to the original design were made by Britoil causing hold up after hold up as management hurried to and fro to New Orleans discussing these changes. In early 1982 it was apparent to the management of Scott Lithgow, Britoil and the Government that the rig would be horrendously late incurring massive penalty payments resulting in the contract losing money.

DESERVE

The Government must step in and support Scott Lithgow. Management and workforce deserve Government backing for at least another three years to prove that they can not only produce the oil-rigs and ships of the future but complete them on time. While Mrs Thatcher might whine about throwing good money after bad she should contemplate the alternative financial commitment the Government will face should Scott Lithgow be forced to close. Redundancy pay, social security benefits, repayments to Britoil and cancellation penalties to suppliers and contractors the final bill could exceed £100 million and that's not taking into account the additional 20,000 workers from the service industries and sub-contractors of Greenock and Port Glasgow who depend on the yard.

Common sense says SAVE SCOTT LITHGOW.

NO TO CRUISE NO TO C.N.D.

ABOUT 150 members and supporters of the National Front marched through the centre of Bury St. Edmunds on Saturday 7th January as the culmination of a local campaign demanding an independent nuclear deterrent for Britain.

During the previous few weeks local members had stepped up their street paper sales and had undertaken substantial door-to-door leafletting with a leaflet specially produced by the NF Publicity Department advertising the campaign.

On Friday 6th January about 30 NF members arrived at the so-clearing up the night's debris the NF members dispersed to a number of local towns where, after breakfast, paper sales were held. Partly because of the substantial local press, radio and television coverage of our activities these paper sales attracted considerable attention and a number of people gave their names and addresses for further information to be sent to them.

In the afternoon NF members from all over East Anglia gathered at Bury St. Edmunds railway station where the march formed up. Headed by the London Drum Corps and the Official Flag Party the column was called R.A.F. Lakenheath which is largely manned and controlled by Americans. From 7.30 p.m. onwards a torchlight vigil was mounted and the large specially produced and very impressive banner attracted considerable attention.

"Attracted by the sound of the drums and the sight of the flags many local people cheered and waved when they saw our banner!"

A considerable number of the British who work in the base gave us "thumbs-up" salutes as they entered or left the base. One kind individual returned to the base after finishing his shift with a bottle of whisky to help keep out the biting cold.

The following morning after able to march through the centre of the town.

Attracted by the sound of the drums and the sight of the flags many local people cheered and waved when they saw the banner depicting our opposition to both the siting of American Cruise missiles and the antics of the C.N.D.

This well co-ordinated campaign has given a substantial boost to the NF Group in Bury St. Edmunds and has resulted in a number of new members throughout that part of East Anglia. All credit must go to the local organisers of this campaign.

Working As A Team

OVER THE NEXT few issues of National Front News you will see various changes in format, layout and presentation. The content that has made the paper the best seller by far amongst all Nationalist publications, will remain the same although some addition to the type of topics covered may occur.

INFORMATIVE

The editorial staff of NF News believe that the success of such a newspaper depends primarily on being easy to read and informative, containing crisp, to the point reports on subjects that the majority of British people will find of interest.

NF News will not only carry articles on the previous months news as reported by the national press but will also be covering stories that will be exclusive to the paper. This will of course be supplemented by a comprehensive coverage of all National Front activities up and down the country.

PROFESSIONAL AND EFFECTIVE

During the next few months the editor, assistant editor, reporters, feature writers, photographers and compilers will be working as a team, a team that has been brought together for the first time to produce this issue. This team, I am certain, as it gains in experience will be capable of publishing a professional and effective Nationalist newspaper that appeals to the general public.

Britain is crying out for a daily paper that reflects the thinking of its readers and does not seek to influence it in the way the national press is guilty of today. Although the arrival of a Nationalist daily is a long way off, the team of young men now involved with NF News, who are receiving an education in all aspects of newspaper presentation and production, could just be the people, involved one day, in that great venture.

NF News seeks to persuade its readers to feel angry about the evils of multi-racialism and to direct their anger solely at the corrupt politicians who created a racial problem in Britain, and not to the immigrant people in general. "Racialism is NOT unlawful - only "racial hatred".

National Front Stops IRA Rally

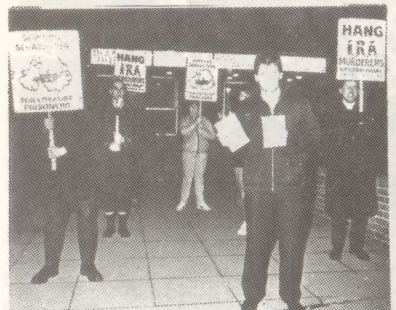

-Instant Response Group In Action!

A GROUP of IRA supporters were forced to cancel a meeting in support of Sinn Fein on January 12th when about sixty members of the National Front turned up!

The pro-IRA meeting was organised in Grays, Essex, by the Labour Party, the Communist Party and the Irish Freedom Movement. The National Front learned about the meeting when a local NF member phoned through the details to the NF's bookshop in Croydon. It was decided that the NF should go along to put the British point of view, so a National Front Instant Response Group was mobilised.

in the police for protection. The local police officers told the organisers of the meeting that they had no right to exclude the NF members since it was a public meeting. They gave them a simple choice; either allow the NF to enter or else they would be forced to close the meeting down.

At this point, the Irish Republicans and Reds started to argue among themselves. The Communist Party said that the NF members should be allowed in while the Irish Freedom Movement were so terrified that they pleaded for the meeting to be abandoned rather than risk letting the sixty NF Getting the message across outside the IRA rally in Grays.

A 'Red' looks pretty sick as the NF wait to enter the meeting.

When the NF members turned up at the Thameside Theatre in Grays, where the meeting was taking place, the IRA supporters in the hall panicked! They barricaded themselves in and claimed that only "invited guests" were allowed in.

About a dozen National Front members who looked like "invited guests" managed to get into the hall while the rest formed an orderly queue outside the hall and demanded the right to enter since the meeting was advertised as being "public".

The IRA supporters then completely lost their nerve and called members enter the hall! And they became even more terrified when the NF members in the hall who looked like "invited guests" began to make their views on the matter known!

In the end the police got fed up with waiting for the Reds to make up their minds and they moved in and closed the meeting down.

This activity was a great success from the National Front's point of view. Not only did we manage to get the IRA meeting stopped, but the demonstration got masses of publicity on Essex Radio and in the local press.

WHY DIE FOR AMERICA?

BEIRUT: Bring Our Boys Home

Israeli bombs explode in Beirut. Why should British troops be at risk?

IT was right and proper that British soldiers, sailors and airmen should have been used to defend the Falkland Isles when they were invaded by Argentina. But it is quite a different matter for Margaret Thatcher to force British soldiers to risk their lives in the Middle East to support President Reagan's pro-Israel policy - a policy which actually works against Britain's interest.

Over 100 British troops have been stationed in Beirut to support the corrupt and dictatorial Lebanese regime of President Gamayel. Elected over 11 years ago in a poll which was corrupt even by Lebanese standards, he has been maintained in power by American support while he has steadily earned the hatred of the majority of his fellow countrymen.

The invasion of Lebanon by Israel is just one aspect of the aggressive and expansionist aims of the likes of Begin and Shamir which include the forcible expropriation of land on the West Bank from Palestinians and the formation of Jewish settlements.

VICHY

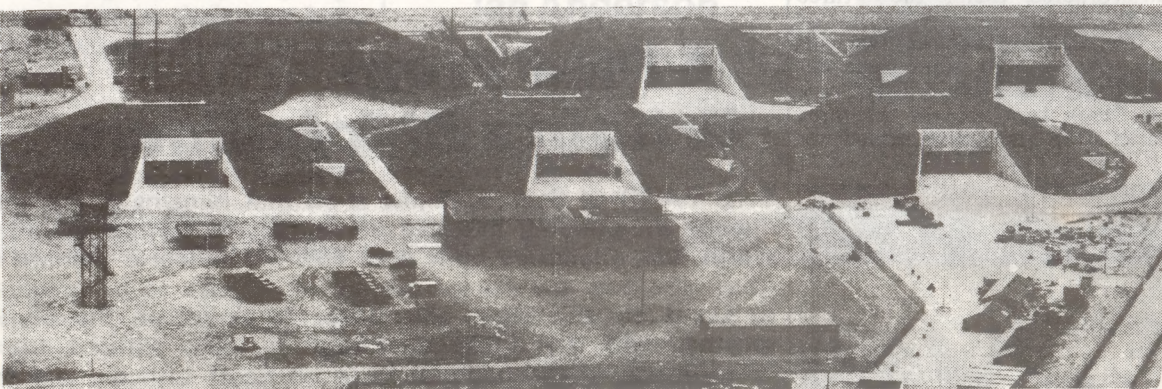

The government of President Giscard d'Estaing has adopted a similar collaborationist role to that of Vichy France during the last war. While the freedom fighters of the Palestine Liberation Organisation are shelled by Americans, bombed by Israelis and massacred by the pro-Israeli Hadad militia, the presence of British troops lends respectability to the invasion.

It is any wonder that the Americans and French troops have come under attack from Lebanese groups which are fighting to rid their country of foreign invaders.

British troops have no part in the dispute and should be withdrawn immediately. Britain is not yet the 51st state of America despite Thatcher's subservience and our troops must not be used to promote their foreign policies. British troops have always been ready to die for their country - but no government has the right to ask them to die for a foreign cause and a cause which is essentially evil.

CRUISE: Threat to the British People

Cruise Missile launch pads. A target for Russia in Britain's heartland.

AMERICAN Cruise missiles have now been sited in the United Kingdom turning Britain into an American aircraft carrier over which we, the British people, have no control. At huge expense to ourselves we have allowed our country to be turned into this giant launching pad - a target in any future American war.

American military strategists have for many years talked of the concept of a limited nuclear war in which the actual theatre of war would be limited to one geographical area. In any war between Russia and America Western Europe would be the inevitable theatre of such a limited war.

By allowing the siting of Cruise missiles Britain has brought this possibility that much closer, and with the unstable President Reagan in charge, can we really be certain that we would even be told before a nuclear war centred in Europe was launched.

JESSE JACKSON

This is presidential election year in America and we now have one Jesse Jackson as the candidate which the media are heavily promoting. Just how safe would Britain be if this Black became the man with the finger on the button. This symptom of the multiracial nightmare of America emphasises the absurdity of Britain being in the front line of their defences.

Yes, Britain needs a nuclear deterrent - a deterrent which is built by British workers in British factories and whose control is solely in the hands of a British government. We do not need the massive overkill capacity which the Americans and Russians have built up. We simply need a nuclear capability strong enough to deter any would-be aggressor.

Electricity Prices

BACK-DOOR TAX

SO THE Government is going to put up electricity prices in April. And, as always, it will be the poor British householder who will have to face the brunt of the Tory price rises.

For domestic bills will go up by 2 per cent - but industry's charges will be frozen for at least a year.

The reason for the rise is because Tory Chancellor, Nigel Lawson, wants to get more money from the power industry and so keep Tory government borrowing to its planned level.

But the Electricity Council itself is happy to keep prices at their present level.

By only raising domestic prices, the Tories have once again placed by means of this 'back-door' tax, a further financial burden on the British people.

Asian Businessmen PUT FIRST!

THE DEPARTMENT of the Environment's Urban Programme and Bradford Council's Economic Development Unit are bending over backwards to aid Bradford's Asian businessmen.

They have launched a three-year research project to provide a comprehensive examination of the needs of local Asian businessmen.

Explaining the reasons for the project, Ian Page, head of Bradford's Economic Development Unit, said:

"We have a wide range of schemes to meet the needs of industry but these could be entirely incompatible to the needs of Asians. As Bradford's Asian community is growing by 7 per cent each year we must look at fresh ways of helping their business sector develop."

In charge of the study - code-named the Asian Business Project - is Mohammed Rafiq, who said of it: "The project is far from academic. It will be used to help shape future council policies on aiding Asian businesses."

So Bradford's Asian Business Project is just yet another example of 'positive discrimination' - the system whereby immigrants are put before Britons in our own country.

DIARY

STEPHEN KNIGHT'S book The Brotherhood claims that masonic corruption in the Police has long been rife. One of the examples quoted is that of Mr. James Page's appointment as Commissioner of the City of London Police in 1971, despite expectation within the force that Hampshire's Chief Constable John Duke would get the job and the fact that Mr. John Alderson, the former Chief Constable of Devon and Cornwall, was shortlisted.

"But neither the general run of officers in the City, nor probably even Page himself reckoned on the power of freemasonry within the Square Mile" the author writes, "It became clear that influential freemasons had decided that Page was the man for the job".

INDIAN EUNUCHS (gentlemen with their testicles removed) have urged the United Nations to help them attain human rights and receive employment opportunities, free education and old-age pensions.

Regarded by many of their countrymen as bizarre misfits who earn their living by prostitution, begging and dancing, the eunuchs have adopted a new ploy to draw attention to their plight. They are exposing themselves to passers-by in the street.

The few remaining white residents of Southall could be in for a shock!

CND HAS always claimed to be a broad church of political opinion and has always vigorously denied any control by 'the Left'.

With this in mind I would have thought their publicity department would have jumped at the chance of publishing the collected anti-bomb speeches of Enoch Powell on the basis that they might appeal to a section of the community not normally reached by CND propaganda.

However, not really to the surprise of anyone, the CND Publications Committee deemed them unsuitable.

BLACK WOMEN attending meetings to discuss racism will be provided with a baby-sitting service costing ratepayers £50 a head.

Chairperson of the GLC Women's Committee Valerie Wise said that applicants for the baby-sitting service must be black or Asian and would look after the children of black mothers who have been invited to "...workshops discussing how to fight racism and sexism".

The Things They Say...

"I warm to the Provisionals, despite the events of the weekend". Mr. Ian Stoddart, co-producer of I.T.V's The Troubles, quoted in the Guardian after the Harrod's bombing.

"I do understand your view that some black crime, ostensibly for gain, is nonetheless 'racist' to the extent that whites are sometimes disproportionately singled out as victims. To that degree I think you make out a good case".

A welcome admission from Sixty Minutes presenter Nick Ross who was responsible last July for the notorious BBC documentary Black which 'traced the origins of white attitudes and misconceptions regarding black people from the 18th Century to the present day'.

"This centre will mark an important development in the history of black people in Britain. It will also clarify the major positive contributions made by the black communities over the years, contributions which have previously been undervalued, denied or ignored".

GLC leader Ken Livingstone on presenting the African Peoples Historical Monument Foundation with a cheque for £43,950 courtesy of London's taxpayers and ratepayers. (Ed. Not including rioting, mugging, looting and the trafficking of drugs can any reader name a 'major positive contribution' made by a black community over the years?)

Tories Starve British Rail

Lines Closed: Jobs Lost

OUR RAIL system, once the envy of the world, will shortly see a further deterioration, both in quality and service. This comes about as a consequence of the Tory Government's pro-road, anti-rail attitude leaving investment and budget for the railway industry, for the second year running, bottom in Europe.

As a result of their annual survey, the International Railway Journal reports that Britain, with a capital budget of £300 million, is little ahead of Belgium, whose rail network is a quarter the size of ours. Even outside Europe many countries, in particular India and South Africa, are spending billions on modernisation and expansion while British Rail is steadily shrinking its own. Only because of the hard efforts made by numerous pressure groups and various rambling bodies including the running of many steam-hauled promotional excursions, B.R. have retained the very scenic 75 mile long Settle & Carlisle line which is part of the main line linking Leeds and Bradford with Carlisle and Scotland and noted for its famous Ribbleshead viaduct.

SOUTHERN REGION

More cuts from this May, in particular on the Southern Region, will see 30% reductions in many services, in both peak and off-peak hours and leaving some stations opening briefly during business periods only. Some examples are that the sizeable town of Dorking in Surrey will lose its main through service to London and Sunday services to and from the densely-populated and "tubeless" suburbs of Streatham and Tulse Hill will completely vanish!

At present, a measly 7% of the country's freight is carried by rail. Under National Front policy this trend would be reversed resulting in most freight going by rail (including some re-opened lines) also by up-dated canals thereby minimising lead petrol exhaust fumes and the constant thundering noises of the very heavy road vehicles and consequential high road maintenance bill. Passengers services would be seen more as rural or urban necessities - as opposed to pure profit makers, although SENSIBLE staffing economies would be studied to effect proper efficiency.

Queen's Speech

IGNORANT OF HER SUBJECTS

ONCE again Her Majesty the Queen used the opportunity of her Christmas broadcast to make a political statement which, at best, must be considered irrelevant to most of her British subjects and to the vast majority of Whites in the Commonwealth.

700 million Indians may have been delighted to see Her Majesty having tea with the despotic Mrs Gandhi. However it was Mrs Gandhi who under the pretence of a state of emergency suspended the rule of law in India, censored the press and introduced arbitrary arrest of political opponents.

Her Majesty. Too many foreign trips.

Yet again we saw the Royal family touring the world but avoiding Scunthorpe, Sheffield, Northern Ireland, Newcastle and other employment black spots. Yet again we saw her traversing the world but ignoring the plight of her own people - except of course when they're Black aliens.

NATIONALISM

Her Majesty went on to talk about the need to hear "less about nationalism and more about interdependence". This is an appallingly patronising attitude to many countries - what most Black and Asian countries need is not interdependence but self reliance. The largest advances have been made by those countries which have rejected massive loans and foreign aid but have looked to their own resources - surely an attitude that should be encouraged.

Her Majesty is head of the Commonwealth and may feel the need Christmas after Christmas to show that she can talk to Asian prime ministers, laugh at prancing Black schoolchildren and show concern at the failures of native governments to provide for their own people. If so, then that is just one more reason to destroy the modern so-called Commonwealth and to replace it with a White family of nations which will have something genuine to unite them - the indivisible links of Race.

Youthaid Report

BLEAK FUTURE FOR BRITAIN'S YOUTH

WHITE YOUNGSTERS are paying a heavy price in Thatcher's Britain. A record number of them are on the dole with over half the 18 year olds unable to get a job.

A report from the charity Youthaid, reveals: 350,000 youngsters under the age of 25 have been without a job for over a year.

Life on the dole for the young brings poverty, psychological strain, homelessness and family break-up. Young people from all levels of education are suffering.

That apprenticeships, on which so many of them rely, have been cut by over a half.

Contrary to the saying of Tory politicians and the news-media, life on the dole for white youngsters is no luxury. Social security benefits are well below the level of the adult unemployed, and even those 'lucky' enough to be placed on the Government's Youth Training Service are not much better off.

CHEAP LABOUR

Most of these so-called jobs (lasting for a maximum of one year) are boring, dirty and sometimes dangerous. Unscrupulous employers often exploit them as cheap labour, forcing them to work long and/or unsocial hours for the mere sum of £25 per week, while it's not unknown for YTS youngsters to be taken on in the place of older and higher paid workers who have been sacked!

Today's youth have a bleak future (unless they're Black, in which case tax-payers money is shovelled their way). Under the present financial-Capitalist system their plight can only get worse.

Only with the advent of a Nationalist government will the prospects for all our people - young and old - brighten.

TRUANCY MADE LEGAL

IT HAS recently been revealed that an estimated ten thousand registered pupils at our schools are, at any one time, long term absentees.

These pupils, far from being truants in the accepted sense, for which parents are usually prosecuted, are Asians whose parents simply inform the headmaster that they are sending their children 'home' - meaning Pakistan or India - to further their cultural and family ties and traditions.

POWERLESS

A department of Education's legal adviser states that the duration of the child's absence can range from one term to several years and, simply because they are in another country, are completely powerless to take action, as firstly, British jurisdiction does not apply abroad and, secondly, the children always resume their education once back in Britain. In one particular school, a Bradford Head, Mr. Ray Honey-ford, says that an amazing one third of his school have made the "Eastern vacation". When they do return, rarely able to speak or write English, excessive overtime is incurred by teachers in order to bring them back to an acceptable standard. All the National Association of Head Teachers impotently admit is that it wants to "work with the Commission for Racial Equality" and, far from wanting to criticise, actually respects the Asians strong family links and opposes any change in the existing law.

OWN ENVIRONMENT

The familiar cries of "underprivileged", "down-trodden", "racially disadvantaged" are poppycock as these Asians are easily able to afford their children's return fare and keep overseas. These lengthy visits home only support our belief that the vast majority of Asians long for their own environment and culture in their own habitat.

.... or will Sir Keith act?

EDUCATION SECRETARY Sir Keith Joseph has called for a new crackdown on the thousands of pupils who play truant daily. In a speech to school chiefs in Sheffield last month he said, "It is clear we need to act to reduce truancy. This is a formidable task". It is estimated that 90,000 State schoolchildren are absent from school each day.

Whether this crackdown includes the 'legal truancy' of Asian children visiting India the Education Secretary doesn't say. However National Front News will be writing to Sir Keith for clarification on this point and to find out if, that once again, there is one law for Asians and another for the ordinary British people.

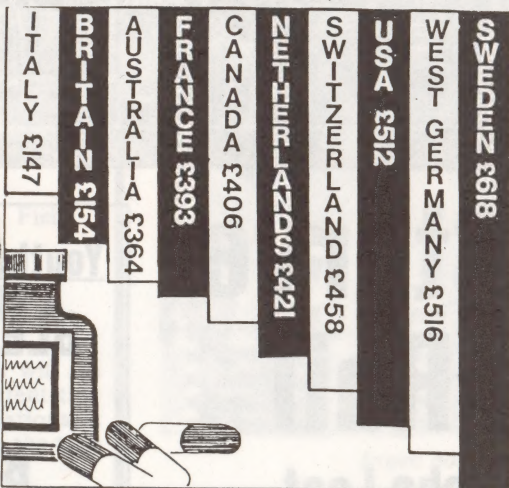

NATIONAL HEALTH SERVICE

The Real Facts!

Listening to Government ministers it would be easy to get the impression that Britain spent a fortune on its health service. It would be easy to think that Britain had one of the most extravagant and extensive health services in Europe.

The facts, however, are rather different. Britain spends less on its health services than other countries. We are well down the league table for expenditure, compared with other Western countries (See graph.....). Britain spends less than a third as much as America and West Germany, only slightly more than Italy and only a quarter of the amount spent in Sweden on health for each member of the population. And we do not spend less because we are simply poorer than other countries. Because if you look at what we spend as a proportion of the nation's wealth we are last in the field. We spend 5.5 per cent of our gross national product on health compared with Sweden who spend 9.8 per cent of theirs. Yet in 1950 Britain was high up the league, ahead of the European countries and closely behind the United States and Canada.

Britain has fewer doctors than other countries. There are 13 doctors for every thousand people in Britain. This is the lowest number for the ten countries we are comparing Britain with. France has 14.6 doctors, Australia 15.2, Netherlands 15.3, Canada 16.4, USA 16.7, Sweden 17.1, Switzerland 18.6, West Germany 19.2, and Italy 19.9.

And we do not have fewer doctors because there are fewer qualified persons than in other countries. There are now more than 2,000 unemployed doctors compared with 493 in 1979.

BRITAIN'S DEFENCE FACTORIES SOLD OFF

BRITAIN'S Royal Ordnance Factories which produce vital defence equipment including ammunition, small arms, rocket motors and weapons and tanks are to be sold off — possibly to foreign companies.

That is the effect of the Conservative Government's Bill which was given a second reading in the House of Commons on Monday January 16th.

Two Conservative M.P.'s, Mrs. Ann Winterton and Mr. Ben Dover had the guts to vote against the Bill, not because of the obvious danger to Britain's national defence, but because they have Royal Ordnance Factories in their constituencies and they fear the possible loss of jobs — and votes.

JOBS EXPORTED

There are no safeguards in the Bill to prevent a complete takeover by foreign interests. In the words of Mr. Denzil Davies, Opposition spokesman on Defence:

"There is nothing in the Bill which will prevent the factories being owned by foreign companies. There is nothing to stop these factories being closed down by foreign companies and its products being manufactured overseas."

Ordnance sell off. A massive risk to the defence of Britain.

Apart from the massive risk to Britain's defence the whole privatisation operation has been shown to be a massive economic disaster. Last year the R.O.F.'s made a profit of £68 million and they are forecast to perform equally well over the next two years. The Government is expected to sell off about £150 million worth of the Royal Ordnance Factories. However, in order to make them suitably attractive to potential buyers they will have to meet a pension liability of nearly £250 million.

BRITANNIA

Overall the Government is therefore likely to make an immediate loss of £100 million and will lose a large part of all future profits — and of the control of such companies.

Margaret Thatcher likes to pose as a modern day Britannia defending Britain's shores against foreign invaders. In reality the only people she is interested in defending are the profit-makers of the giant multinational companies — ordinary Britons must start looking to their own defence.

NEWSPAPER FREEZES OUT OLD FOLK

A LOT of old people in Waltham Forest will be having a very cold winter — thanks to the heartlessness of the Walthamstow Guardian.

The Guardian decided an enterprising plan by a group of local young people to help pensioners in their area just because the young people concerned happened to be members of the National Front.

The group of NF members planned to seek a grant from the Greater London Enterprise Board and the Co-operative Development Agency to that they could fit roof insulation in old folks' homes.

Adrian Wiltshire, Roger Denny and Nick Lloyd, all members of the NF, felt very concerned about the plight of old age pensioners in their area and they came up with the idea of setting up a workers' co-operative to help old people in the borough of Waltham Forest where they lived. The purpose of the co-operative would be to fit roof insulation and look into other ways of cutting down heat-loss in the homes of old people.

In order to find the initial money they needed to start the co-operative, Adrian Wiltshire approached the Co-operative Development Agency for a grant. Adrian made no effort to conceal his political views because the C.D.A. has a policy when considering the application for grants of "not discriminating on the grounds of race, religion or politics".

However, the Walthamstow

Guardian decided that it would be better for the local old folk to freeze to death rather than let NF members help out the local community. They carried a front page story about Adrian Wiltshire's political views, and they put pressure on the Co-operative Development Agency to withdraw its support for the planned co-operative.

The C.D.A. then decided to forget about its policy of "not discriminating on the grounds of politics" and promptly withdrew all support.

Old people in Waltham Forest would do well to realise that their local paper is more concerned with fighting the National Front than with looking after the welfare of its readers.

POMPEY DEMO

PORTSMOUTH NATIONAL Front staged a successful anti-CND demonstration in the town's shopping centre recently.

Giving out leaflets exposing CND's anti-British and pro-Soviet nature, the demonstration created a lot of interest amongst Saturday morning shoppers many of whom stopped to ask questions on National Front policies and buy NF literature.

On Saturday 10th December 1983 the National Directorate of the National Front made a number of changes in the party administration designed to increase the effectiveness of the National Front.

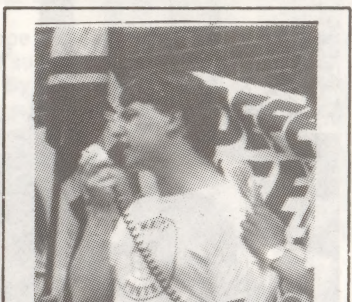

Andrew Brons

Andrew Brons remains Chairman of the National Front and head of the Policy Department. Currently facing a charge for selling party publications in Leeds he has regularly been harassed by Reds at his place of work. Besides holding down a full time job he is editor of New Nation, the party's ideological magazine. He has also prepared a new National Front "Statement of Policy" which is shortly to go to print.

Ian Anderson

Ian Anderson remains Deputy Chairman and head of the Branch Liaison Department, he also takes over as head of the Administration Department and joint head of the Activities Department. Recently sentenced to a three month suspended sentence for attempting to deliver a letter of protest to Gravesend Council over their refusal to hire premises to the NF he has been an active member of the NF for over 13 years. His main priority now is to dovetail the Office administration with the needs of the Branches of the party to produce a unity of purpose and to put both on firm financial bases.

Joe Pearce

Joe Pearce remains Chairman of the Young National Front and head of the Education and Training Department as well as taking on the joint headship of the Activities Department. Already he has been chiefly responsible for setting up the Instant Response Groups and the Unemployed Activist Units which have held several successful activities detailed elsewhere in this issue. He has been editor of Nationalism Today which has become Britain's premier nationalist magazine with its radical and lively approach. He is determined to massively expand the Education and Training Department which for too long has been the Cinderella Department of the Party.

Nick Griffin

Nick Griffin joins the Executive Council and takes over as head of the Publicity Department. Within four weeks of taking the position he has been responsible for the preparation of four new national leaflets which have now been produced as well as two Instant Response Group leaflets. Nick has been a member of the Policy Department for several years and is a regular contributor to party publications.

Martin Wingfield

Martin Wingfield joins the Executive Council and becomes head of the Election Department and editor of National Front News. As you will see from this issue he is determined to make National Front News a campaigning paper with a lively approach to news and current affairs. He is the NF's Sussex Regional Organiser and is the founder and editor of the NF's best local publication Sussex Front.

Graham Williamson

Graham Williamson joins the Executive Council. He is the Organiser of the highly successful Blackpool Branch and is a regular contributor to party publications.

This is a youthful team, although not lacking in experience, which is dedicated to turning the NF into an efficient machine capable of winning power. It is a team which meets the requirements of the party in the 1980's.
